PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE . . .

Hopefully every one of you left February's luncheon armed and ready to go home and take charge of your heart health. What informative and caring speakers we had. We could have kept them there for another hour.

April showers bring May flowers and the "antiques road show." Well, as least our version any way. You are invited to bring a small collectible or antique to the April luncheon and keep it at your table. Our guest speaker, Jewell Wilson Ryals, is an antique expert and as part of her presentation she will walk around the room and appraise items at each table. Who knows maybe you have a priceless heirloom? Ladies, don't forget that April's luncheon reservation is due Wednesday, April 4th.

The Women's Club would like to thank Judy Lando and Doris Davidson for all their hard work to provide us with such great programs each month!

Mark your calendar for some important dates

May 9th Luncheon - Landscaping

May 18th Spring Fling - Dinner and Dancing

May 30th Luncheon* - Wedding Planning A to Z

Note: June 7th is the last day of public school; therefore, we are having the June luncheon on May 30th.

You may be receiving a phone call to serve on the WWC Board. Please give this consideration and accept. We have ladies on the board who have served for two to five years and are stepping down. If we do not fill these positions for next year by May 1st the Wakefield Women's Club will fold and May 30th will be your last WWC event. It's your turn to volunteer and join in the fun.

Thank you,
Marguerite

April Luncheon Program

"Antiques Road Show" comes to WWC

Just recently, a man bought a scroll at a garage sale. It turned out to be one of the 200 original reprinted copies of The Declaration of Independence!

Stories like that are few and far between but wouldn't it be a nice surprise to learn that your collectible has considerable value!

Jewell Wilson Ryals, owner of Bostic & Wilson Antiques in Fuquay-Varina and an antiques expert, will be our guest speaker. She will share her life and expertise in antiques and will select choice pieces for appraisal.

You won't want to miss this program so bring a favorite collectible and who knows...you might have a "winner" gathering dust in your home or attic.
